Utah Symphony, Evans Plan 'Lincoln Portrait'

Aaron Copland's "Lincoln Portrait," with Richard I. Evans as narrator, will be the featured number of the Utah Symphony Orchestra when it appears Monday at the Brigham Young University forum.

Maestro Maurice Abravanel will conduct the 85-piece orchestra in the hour-long program. Abravanel, who became the conductor of the Utah Symphony Orchestra in 1947, began his career in Europe in 1924, working in small orchestras in the German cities.

LATER AFTER HIS work with the Cappel Opera, Abravanel became conductor of the Berlin State Opera. He was appointed assistant conductor of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York in 1936. Abravanel later worked in the Chicago Opera Company and the Sydney Opera Company and the Sydney Opera Company and the Sydney Opera Company.

Chinese Agression Dominates U.S.-Indian Cooperation Talks

NEW DELHI, Feb. 12.—(UPI)—Indian Prime Minister Jawahar Lal Nehru met with visiting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today for what informed sources said was a de-ranga review of the international situation.

The sources said the talks would include India's recent troubles with Communist China—a dispute which has a heavy strain on relations between New Delhi and Peking.

KHRUSHCHEV ARRIVED yesterday in New Delhi on the last stop of his three-week tour of "goodwill and friendship" through Southeast Asia. The trip also will take him to Burma, Szechuan and Afghanistan.

Khrushchev talked with Nehru for 40 minutes yesterday after addressing Parliament. In his address, he emphasized Indo-Indian cooperation in the cause of peace and disarmament.

Under Abravanel's direction, the orchestra also has recorded extensively, has made orchestral music available to tens of thousands of Utah music lovers and school children, and has encouraged Utah composers by programming their works.

Evans, member of the Council of the Twelve of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, who will narrate for the orchestra, is the director of radio station KSL.

He is well known for his sermons on "Music and the Spoken Word," where he is not only the voice, but the producer and writer as well.

'Ideal Woman' Search Starts Monday

Contests begin Monday in the search for Brigham Young University's "ideal woman." Belle of the Y.

Cake-baking ability, talent, beauty, poise, personality and popularity will all be criteria in the judging of the contestants.

APPLICATIONS WERE turned in Thursday, and all candidates will meet Friday at 6 p.m. in 260 Eyring Science Center for instructions.

Belle of the Y contestants need not be married by any organization. The only preliminary requirements are that she be a regularly matriculated student, carrying at least 12 credit hours. She may not be on social or academic probation.

Last year Carol Bjornald, a Salt Lake City sophomore, received the coveted tiara at the end of the week's contests. Attendees were Carol Ronnow, a sophomore from Las Vegas, Nev., and R'Lene Jensen, a sophomore from Provo.

MISS BJORNALD received an array of gifts from Provo merchants and a bouquet of long-stemmed roses. She was also presented with a gold Belle of the Y necklace, a traditional gift from Y Calcarees and Intercollegiate Knights, sponsors of the annual week.

During last year's contests in cake-baking, dancing, talent, popularity, beauty and personality, Miss Bjornald amassed a total of 80.1 points out of a possible 100. She tied for first in beauty and personality and rated high in all other contests, according to last year's records.

Russ Reject Test Ban, U.S. Not Giving Up Yet

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(UPI)—American officials said today they believed Russia still may accept President Eisenhower's new proposal to ban most nuclear weapons tests despite its rejection by the Soviet delegate at Geneva negotiations.

U.S. officials said they had more or less expected an initial blast from the Russians but thought the Soviet Union might actually agree to the plan after thorough consideration.

THREE OFFICIALS pointed out that the statement yesterday by the Soviet representative at Geneva, Semyon Tassarkin, was made to the press and did not constitute formal rejection.

Tassarkin described as "unacceptable" and a "step backward" the American plan to ban all atmospheric, ocean, and space test blasts and underground nuclear explosions large enough to be detected by methods on which both the Russians and the West agree.

EISENHOWER, when he unveiled the plan at his news conference yesterday, pointed out that it would "allay world wide concern" over radioactivity in the atmosphere because it would completely bar tests which contributed to this.

THE SOVIET Union repeatedly has called for a total ban on all tests, without respect to the adequacy of the control and inspection system.

However, American, British and Russian delegates at Geneva have come to general agreement on a system which the United States believes adequate to police a ban of the type Eisenhower proposed.

Cards Necessary To Enter Game, Reminds Rex Lee

All students need activity cards to get into Saturday's game, studentbody president Rex Lee has reminded.

Lee said that there will be no exceptions to this rule—even if the student is wearing a ROTC, service club, Cougarette or band uniform.

FEWER THAN a dozen cards were confiscated last weekend because persons other than the owners used them, Lee reported. "This makes me believe that most students loaned activity cards because they did not know any better," he commented.

However, he added that "we must protect ourselves against the few who make the entire studentbody pay for their tickets," so cards used by any other person than its owner will be confiscated and will be redeemable only after a $3 fine is paid.

ANGUISHED AGGIE—BYU's Jim Nelson has to be held off Aggie Bob Anderson by referee Vic Boyd in a pep assembly version of Saturday's basketball game. Pep assembly will be held Friday at 7 p.m. in Smith Fieldhouse prior to Fite Nite. Entertainment will be by the pep squad and Tau Sigma social unit.

Mitchell to Direct Cast Of Easter Production

"This year's Easter play is a joy moving and dramatic theme, the Resurrection," announced Dr. Albert O. Mitchell, who will be directing. The play takes the form of a trial. First on trial is the gardener who was left to guard Jesus' tomb. He is charged with aiding Jesus' disciples in abducting His body to convince the public He is dead. Set in a courtroom, the drama unfolds as various witnesses take the stand to testify for and against the gardener. Jesus and His disciples, the director said, individual appointments may be made by phoning Dr. Mitchell. Half the parts are for men and half for women.

Names Posted

The list of students who passed a Junior English Proficiency examination given on Jan. 9 will be posted Monday on the bulletin boards outside the main English office, 301 McKay Bldg., and the freshman English office, 240 McKay Bldg. Those who failed will be notified by mail; announce the Junior English committee.

Journalists Meet

Journalism faculty members and students from Brigham Young University will attend sessions of the Utah State Press Association's annual convention this weekend in Salt Lake City.

Noel H. Duerden, instructor in Journalism, will present the department's bronze plaque in the Utah weekly newspaper judged to have produced the best front pages during 1959. The award is given annually in memory of Harrison R. Merrill, founder of the BYU Journalism department.

Deafness Program Begins

A special program on deafness in children will be conducted by the Brigham Young University Speech and Hearing Clinic and the Radio and Television Dept. on KLORTV Saturday at 5 p.m.

Debonettes Perform

Las Vegas High School's Debonettes will present two performances for fans at the Brigham Young University-Utah State University basketball game in BYU's Smith Fieldhouse Saturday night.

The first performance will be a short program during halftime activities of the BYU-Kitten-USU Rambler game about 6:30 p.m. A complete show will be presented following the varsity game, about 9:45 p.m.

She stood in my path and looked me over carefully. Finally she spoke.

"Oh! It was that cross between a crow and a squeal that only girls are capable of. 'You're a boy, aren't you?'"

"Well, I like to think so," I said.

"And you're nice, too. You're friendly. I feel that I can talk with you."

THIS, OF COURSE, brought out the father in me, whatever that may be, and I started to look at the girl in a new light. She was slim and cute—probably a freshman, but I have nothing against freshmen. I can't afford to be choosy.

"Of course," I encouraged her. "Feel free to bring any of your problems to me." I tried to sound kind and sane.

"Well, this is Twirl Week, you know. It's kind of to celebrate leap year. Don't you think leap year is absolutely wonderful? Anyway, this week the girls are supposed to ask for dates and everything."

"Yes, yes," I encouraged her.

"I WAS WONDERING if you would give me some advice on what boys to ask to the different events."

"Oh!" I said. "I see." You can't win them all.

"Here's a list of the activities."

"Hm, let me see." I carefully perused the list. "Assemblies. Now, for assemblies you'll want a good strong man. One who can make it up and down the stairs. For the film classic I'd advise someone with a very short memory. On second thought, for most of the film classics a short memory isn't necessary. Not many of us can remember Rudolph Valentino. Then there's the library. Now you can't ask any man to go to the library. For a special date like that you'd want a fellow you feel very close to. You know how it is on this campus, the big events are the Junior Prom and the library. Most people only get to them once a year."

"And the victory dance?" She asked.

"Ah yes, the victory dance. I turned so that she could see my profile, and smiled to show my gold filling. "For that I would suggest a gentleman with charm and poise. Right now, you shouldn't have to look very far to find just the man."

"Oh, I know. There's a boy in our ward. Well, thank you for your help. You've been wonderful. If any of my friends need advice I'll tell them to get in touch with you."

"You do that," I said. "It's been great fun."

Y Programmers To Give Show In Sunny Cal.

A group of 30 members of the Brigham Young University Program Bureau leave Friday for California to give several performances of the show, "Star Dust Revue."

PRESENTATIONS ARE scheduled for Saturday and Sunday in the Oakland-Berkley Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints; Monday, Stockton Stake; Tuesday, San Jose Stake; Wednesday, Sunnyvale Ward in Palo Alto Stake; Thursday or next Friday, Sacramento Stake; and next Saturday, Santa Rosa Stake at Napa. The hour-and-a-half talent show will begin at 8 p.m. at each place.

"STAR DUST REVUE" is under the direction of Jamie Thompson, BYU program coordinator with Mr and Mrs Janice Lawrence acting as chaperones.

The tour will be the longest trip the Program Bureau will make this year.

Skyline Still a Proving Grounds For Those "Greener Gridirons"

Mary Levy "Skyline Coach of the Year" has given up his coaching at New Mexico for the California grid job. People in Berkeley are asking "who is Levy?"

Well, judging from his performance at New Mexico the Golden Bear fans soon will know their new coach.

WHEN BEN Martin of Air Force turned down a "feeler" from Cal I said I doubted that any Skyline Coach would turn down a similar situation.

I overlooked the comfortable situation Bob Devaney has made for himself on the windswept plains of Laramie and the close to unrealistic aspirations of Utah's Redskins and Chief Ray Nagel. Together with Levy and John Ralston of Utah State these men were considered for the Cal opening.

CONTRARY To early reports, Bob Devaney wasn't offered the job, but merely withdrew from further consideration. Nagel, himself, and Salt Lake writers mentioned the Ute mentor more than anyone else and he said he wouldn't consider an offer, if one was forthcoming.

Recent moves by Wyoming, including an attempt to get into the Big Eight and attempts to get games with Big Ten schools and Army, may have been responsible for Devaney's decision to remain. Also, no worries about academic entrance problems and more liberal grant-in-aid program no doubt had some weight.

NAGEL MUST have some of the ideas that have already become reality at Wyoming floating in his head. But frankly geography and lack of success may keep the Utah eleven out of the air and in the hanger indefinitely.

Ralston was put in an awkward situation by the Cal coach hunt. He played there and coached there and felt it a tremendous chance for him, yet he had been at USU only one season and hadn't fully initiated his program. With such divided loyalties he couldn't actively participate in the campaign for the job.

It's good commentary on the Skyline picture that four out of the eight coaches were considered for the position and that one made the grade.

On the other hand, while Devaney and Nagel aren't looking for greener pastures outside their present positions, it is to be hoped the Cowboys and Utes will remain satisfied with the Skyline situation and up grade the league rather than abandon it.

Latest word on last year's freshman hoop sensation Timo Lampen is that he'll be back to bolster next year's Cougar hoop endeavors.

Matmen Ready for Ag Journey

Coch Reed Weight and his Brigham Young wrestling squad find themselves in the strange role of facing an opponent they've already defeated this season when they travel to Logan Saturday to meet Utah State.

THE BYU grapplers have a 1-5 season mark, with only a 22-8 decision over the Aggies on the credit side of the ledger. However, things may be a little tougher for the Cougars this weekend. The Ags dropped the Colorado Buffs two weeks ago and the Cats lost a close match to the same team.

The Y matmen have had a week to regroup their forces and will probably be physically fresh for the first time in nearly a month. BYU captain Ron Leckie has been sorely missed since he sustained an injury in the Utah meet on Jan. 16. The junior matman won his first two matches before being sidelined, while his replacements haven't been able to hold their own in the other four matches.

With only two seniors among his starters, Coach Weight is able to philosophize about his season's record since the experience gained will aid the Cougars next year.

Two Exhibitions to Highlight Annual AMS Fite Nite in Smith Fieldhouse

Two high caliber exhibition boxing matches will highlight tonight's annual AMS Fite Nite in the Smith Fieldhouse at 7:30 p.m.

Sixteen championship intramural matches, nine boxing and seven wrestling, will be the main bulk of the program, however.

The exhibitions will be in the bantamweight and welterweight classes. The bantam weight match will pit Max Gibb against Mike Martinez and the welterweight clash will be between Jerry Vinson and Gordy Hansen.

Gibb has won numerous amateur titles, including Edmonton, Alberta Golden Gloves champion, Alberta provincial AAU champion, Las Vegas Golden Gloves champ and Midland Empire Golden Gloves champion. He will fight in the Golden Gloves national finals in Chicago later this year.

His opponent, Martinez, has been fighting since 1948 and has over 80 fights to his credit. He was 1951 bantam weight champ of the Eighth Air Force, and Golden Gloves champ of Sioux City the same year. He has fought in the nationals of the Golden Gloves also.

The boxing card is as follows:

125-132—Edwin Milled, Ind., vs. Ralph Brooks, Val Hyrie.

147—Hugh McMillan, San Diego, vs. Dennis Hamilton, Ind.

156—Sheldon Green, San Diego, vs. Dick Pope, Val Hyrie, vs. Robert Ray, Viking.

176—Blaine Murray, CL2, vs. Lynn Reno, Ind.

Heavyweight — Dave Barrus, San Diego, vs. LeRoy Overstreet,

Tau Sigma.

The wrestling matches are:

123—Albert Nielson vs. Norton.

130—Alvin Harward vs. Barker.

137—Nick Stevenson, KR2 Steve Bleak, Val Hyrie.

147—Stephen Perry, Ind., Dennis Ercanbrack, Ind.

157—Keith Durfee, 21st W vs. Larry Whedright, BRL.

167—Right Noel, 21st W vs. Gary Bunnell, Val Hyrie.

177—Paul Jacobson, Val rie, vs. Kendall Mortenson, J.

191 — Roger Stringham Gary Smith.

Heavyweight — Jim Swann Dick Magoffin, San Diego.

Iron Men' Out to Prove Metal

by Howard Hill
 Universe Sports Writer

BYU will attempt to discover the secret of Cec Baker's winning recipe tomorrow night as the hungry Cats meet the Panthers of Utah State in a Skyline football UH beginning at 6 p.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

COUGAR CENTER Dave Eastwood added some spice to the rivalry contest that was left to the Aggie-Cougar battle a week ago. The Skyline Contesters' leading scorer missed Logan game with a sprained knee. Utah State thoroughly tested the Cats in that fracas, 35-20.

The men of Cec Baker are tied number seven in the nation in the Associated Press weekly poll and are ninth nationally according to the United Press. In the overall season the Farmers have a lousy record of 17 wins, two losses, and are unbeaten in seven Skyline tilts.

ADD TO THIS their string of 11 straight wins, which is just about the longest win streak in the Skyline, and you can see why the Aggies are rated seventh in the country.

Utah State still but owns the Skyline team statistics. They have the top offensive average, scoring an average of 63.7 points a game.

NOT ONLY are they tops on offense but on defense they're averaging the rest of the Skyline pack holding the opposition to 63.0 points a game. In rebounding the Farmers have taken down 405 in their seven games to lead in that department and number four on their list is the field goal percentage with an amazing .444 average.

THE ONLY category they do not dominate in is free throw percentages, and Utah is tops in this department with .734. Matter of fact the Cougars have the edge over Utah State in this field, .677 to .631.

In comparison from 1981 week's ball games the Farmers hold a big margin over BYU in comparative scoring. The Aggies downed Denver 59-66 while the Pioneers were routing the Cats 86-66. This adds up to 50 points but this is only on a comparative basis. As mentioned the Cougars got slaughtered by the Logan five two weeks ago, but that was only 31 points.

THE AGGIES are paced by Cornell Green, who is second in the Skyline scoring race, with an average of 23 points a game. East is averaging 23.7 per game. The other four Farmers' "Iron Men" include Mack Perry, Tyler Wilbow, Jerry Schofield, and Ralph Collimore.

Schofield is averaging 17.6 points in Skyline play. Perry averages 16.9, and Wilbow is averaging 12.3. However, unlike fellow Skyline coaches, Baker goes with this five every game.

all the game. Unless, of course, his team pulls into a tie lead, which has been occurring quite frequently lately.

ACCORDING TO Watts, the Cougars will play a slow down game to try and counter the Aggie attack. The BYU mentor, who won his 200th game last week-end, will go with Mark Miller and Ron Bell at the forward slot. Miller is averaging 14.6 in Skyline competition, and is a rough man on the boards. Gary Earnest, who is averaging 10.6 in league play, and Ron Abegglen will get the starting job at guard.

Frosh, Ramblers Collide in 'Championship' Game

Thursday's scrimmage is no indication. BYU's frosh players will be plenty ferocious when they tangle with the Utahite Ramblers in Saturday's eliminator.

THE OPEN TIME for the contest is 6 p.m. Fans will be admitted to the fieldhouse starting 5:45 p.m.

Coach Pete Witbeck was happy with his club's exceptional play as they prepared to meet a 72-70 setback suffered the hands of the Ramblers in their two weeks ago.

THE RAMBLERS ran their record to 7-1 last Friday as they ebbed Hill AFB, 103-67. The Kittens also improved their record with impressive wins over Tinker AFB and Hill B with a 83 record they are averaging 85.5 points a game to their opponents' 60.

BOTH THE Kittens and the Ramblers have recorded victories over the Utah Papooses and BYU scorings must beat the Utah frosh this in order to win or even tie for the mythical Utah State frosh title.

The Kittens meet the Papooses once more in Provo. The Ramblers, who have beaten the Utah twice, face them in two more encounters, one in Salt Lake City and one in Logan.

WITBECK intends to go with his usual starters, Kirby McMaster at center, Jim Kelton and Bruce Burton at forwards, and Ron Steinko and Gary Batchelor at guards. If this doesn't work he may try the double post.

Two reserve guards, Eddy Brown and Jim Williams are expected to see a lot of action after their fine showing last weekend.

GAIL JOHNSON will likely be used at a reserve forward slot. Johnson has been out of action with a thumb injury but he's okay now.

Three of the Cat yearlings are averaging in the double figures in scoring. Steinko is leading the pack with 17.2 points a game. Kelton follows closely with a 17 average and Burton has 14 per game.
